THE REPUBLICAN.

Established 1869. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1910. Vol. 40. No. 18.

TO SUE SOCIETY WOMEN FOR BALANCE ON BOOKS

Echo of Their Experience With Smooth-Tongued Agent.

LETTERS FROM LAWYER

New York Firm Sends Notice That Proceedings Will be Instituted Unless Claims are Paid Several Released From Contracts.

Fifteen or more Bellefonte society women are threatened with suit to collect from them amounts ranging from $2 to $29.50 as a result of their already unpleasant experience in signing contracts for books some months ago. Several of those to subscribe for the books in question have compromised on a basis of $20. It is against those who have not compromised that suit is threatened.

How the women in question were cleverly humbugged by a smooth-tongued woman book agent last Summer has already been related in "The Republican." The subscribers gladly signed contracts, each calling for $29.50 for certain books. Each subscriber was promised a course in correspondence lectures, but nothing was said of this in the contracts. The lectures proved to be a myth, the subscribers therefore refused to pay, and finally an agent of the American University Society, of New York, visited Bellefonte to investigate. He adjusted matters with several subscribers, releasing each from her contract on the payment of $20, all told.

A day or two ago letters were received in Bellefonte from a firm of New York lawyers, briefly announcing that suit would be entered against those subscribers not released, and that collection would be made on a basis of the full $29.50. Whether the women who have not settled for their books will combine and fight the proceedings is a matter being considered. Some are said to be trying this plan, while others are disposed to pay the full $29.50 and end the controversy.

ROBB KNOCKED OUT

Judge Orvis Appoints Curtin and Walker Borough Auditors.

Judge Orvis, on Saturday, handed down an opinion declaring invalid the recent election for Auditors in Bellefonte borough, deciding that two vacancies existed and appointing John Curtin, Republican, and Miles Walker, Democrat, to serve until the next muncipal election, which will be in November, 1911. In taking this action Judge Orvis throws out Bert Robb, whom he recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of Maurice Jackson, resigned.

It was because Robb's commission called for the unexpired term of Jackson that the Republicans did not nominate the former for a full term. The Democrats nominated Walker for the unexpired term and immediately after the election they attacked Robb's commission.

John Curtin was elected in February to a full term. The ballot was declared defective and that, therefore, neither Curtin nor Walker had been elected. Judge Orvis decided that both should be appointed but only until the next muncipal election, when their successors shall be chosen to a full term each. In his opinion disposing of the tangle, Judge Orvis raps party leaders for not devoting more time and attention in seeing to it that election returns are properly certified to the County Commissioners thus mimimizing the danger of defective ballots.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, which embraces the counties of Centre Clearfield, Blair, Mifflin, Bedford, Huntingdon, Juniata and Perry, will open its annual Spring meeting in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church on Wednesday of next week, March 30, and will continue over the following day. A cordial invitation is extended the ladies of all other denominations to be present at the several sessions. On Wednesday evening the services will be open to the public, both ladies and gentlemen, and at which there will be special music and an address by Robert E. Speer, of New York, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Those who have never heard Mr. Speer should not miss this opportunity to listen to one of his masterful addresses. He is generally acknowledged to be a most able and eloquent speaker and his earnest efforts and appeals, particularly in the cause of foreign missions, have added largely to his popularity and have made him many friends and admirers.

WEDDED LAST DECEMBER SECRET IS JUST OUT

IS NOW MRS. DAVIDSON

Husband is Son of M. H. Davidson, of Philipsburg, Formerly Residing Near Unionville—Secret Leaked Out When Ring Was Purchased.

Wedded on December 23, but only confiding the fact to her friends on Monday, last, was the romance of Miss Lila Kyser, of Unionville, now Mrs. Andrew Davidson, of Philipsburg. So well did the young couple keep their secret that it was with difficulty that they convinced their friends that it was all true and that the wedding announcement was not a hoax.

Miss Kyser has been making her home with her mother's sister, Mrs. Edward Iddings, at Unionville. Young Davidson resided near Unionville until about three or four years ago, when with his father, M. H. Davidson, he removed to Philipsburg. While a student at a Philadelphia medical college he frequently made flying visits to Unionville, but this occasioned no surprise and not even his closest friends suspected that he and Miss Kyser were married.

On Monday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Davidson came to Bellefonte. They wanted to do some shopping and one of the things they wanted to purchase was a ring. When it developed that it was a wedding ring that was wanted, the secret was no longer a secret and the happy young couple told of their marriage a day or two before Christmas.

Miss Kyser, or rather Mrs. Davidson, is a pretty girl and has a host of friends who wish her much happiness in her married life. Her father resides at Salt Lake City. Since her mother's death she has been living at the Iddings' home, at Unionville, but now that it is known that she is Mrs. Davidson she will remove to Philipsburg.

MAY RETURN TO WIFE

Arthur Grove, Gregg Township Farmer, Sends Letter Home.

Arthur M. Grove, the young Gregg township farmer who recently deserted his wife and children, disappearing on the same day that 16-year-old Esther Floray left her home, at Chester Hill, may return and ask to be forgiven. On Saturday, last, Grove wrote a letter to his wife. His whereabouts, or what the letter said, were matters on which Mrs. Grove gave no infomation. The fact that Grove should write to his wife is interpreted by friends of both as indicating his repentance and a desire to return and be restored to his family.

Should Grove come back, however, he will find his home a thing of the past, his property gone and his farm in the hands of others. On Monday the farm was sold, being bought in by his sister, Miss Anna Grove, who was a half-owner and who held notes signed by her brother on which judgment was entered.

Mrs. Grove and her four children have gone to the home of her father, Isaac Haugh, in the Brush Valley side of Gregg township. She received about $800 as her share of the proceeds of the sale of the farm. In addition she was allowed to take with her the household goods and some of the stock and grain. Her father says that he will provide a home for her so long as he lives.

According to the neighbors of William Floray, the father of the young girl, nothing has been heard from her since her strange disappearance at the time Grove deserted his family. If she has written to her parents this has not become known in the neighborhood. The fact that Grove had written to his wife, after being gone two weeks, created quite a stir among the friends of the family. Grove's sister called on Mrs. Grove and asked to see the letter. Mrs. Grove admitted that she had received a letter from her husband but refused to show it or make known its contents.

Base Ball Meeting Tonight.

A meeting of the representatives of Bellefonte and several other towns will be held tonight, at the Elks clubhouse, to endeavor to form a Central Pennsylvania Baseball League. On the success of this meeting will depend, in a large measure, to what extent Bellefonte will figure in the baseball world this Summer. Sufficient interest is being manifested in Bellefonte to insure funds to support a successful team and the only possible hitch will be in arranging a circuit taking in a number of towns not too far apart.

MR. EMERY NOT ENTITLED TO REPUBLICAN NOMINATION

Asks Election To Congress as Candidate of Party He Deserted and Tried to Defeat Four Years Ago.

HE WAS RECENT DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

The situation in the Twenty-first Congressional district, in regard to the selection of a candidate to succeed Congressman Barclay, last week assumed a new phase with the announcement by Lewis Emery, Jr., of McKean County, that he is an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination. That Mr. Emery should inject himself into the campaign as an aspirant for political honors is not surprising. That he should, however, appeal to Republicans for their support is, to say the least, astonishing.

Mr Emery has, as has every other citizen, a perfect right to aspire to political office. Had he entered the field as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress his action would have been viewed as a logical step and one entirely consistent with his attitude of four years ago when he, as the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor, unsuccessfully opposed that sterling Republican, Edwin S. Stuart. As the Democratic candidate Mr. Emery made a personal tour of Pennsylvania. He left nothing unsaid or undone that was calculated to injure the Republican ticket. It was not his fault that the Republican party was not overthrown and the State turned over to the enemy.

In adopting this course, Mr. Emery exercised his rights as a citizen. As to the wisdom of his course in turning his back upon the Republican party, when it was facing a crisis, that is a matter we leave to Mr. Emery and his conscience. We maintain, however, that it comes with ill grace for Mr. Emery at this time to launch his candidacy as a Republican and ask Republicans to support him at the polls.

One needs but to note the glad acclaim with which the Democrats, their newspapers and rank and file, greet the Emery candidacy to appreciate that they still regard him as one of their flock who is temporarily in the wrong pew. It is but stating the plain truth to further note that since the time he opposed Governor Stuart Democrats generally have regarded Mr. Emery more as a Democrat than a Republican. Possibly due to this fact is their lack of surprise that he should enter his announcement card for publication in Democratic as well as Republican newspapers.

To allow Mr. Emery's course to pass unnoticed would be to give it, by inference at least, the sanction of silence. This we do not propose to do. We publish in our advertising columns Mr. Emery's announcement card and a statement issued by him. To refuse to publish the same would be to lay ourselves open to the just charge of discrimination. While publishing Mr. Emery's card, and also those of Mr. Barclay and Mr. Patton, we reserve the right to express ourselves on this and all other subjects.

We believe, and make no secret of our conviction, that a man should be a Republican, or a Democrat, or a Prohibitionist or of whatever other party he may be affiliated with. We have no sympathy with or approval for one who is neither a Republican nor a Democrat, who migrates for a time with one party, then with another, who becomes disgruntled when he cannot rule and who tries to tear down rather than see others succeed. The man who changes his political clothing over night to suit the emergency is usually prompted by selfishness and is unworthy of honors at the hands of any party.

We have no quarrel with Mr. Emery personally. This is not a personal matter. It is one of principle and party policy and is, therefore, one of importance to the Republicans of the Twenty-first Congressional district, of which Centre County is a part. There are many true Republicans in the district, eminently qualified in every way to represent us at Washington. If Mr. Emery is sincerely repentent after his folly of four years ago and desires to again work in harmony with the Republican party, we suggest that he demonstrate this by aiding in the election of Republicans who have been true to their colors rather than place himself at the front as an aspirant for party honors. We are quite frank in saying that in our judgment it is entirely too soon after Mr. Emery's return to the fold for him to ask the Republican party for one of the highest honors at its command.

GOES TO COURT

The case of the shooting of little Carrie Kauffman, of Zion, goes to Court, counsel for Fred Rockey having waived the further hearing, which was scheduled for tomorrow.

According to John Rockey, father of the young man, the latter made no statement at the hearing before Squire Keichline last week. The Rockeys do not believe that the girl was shot by a bullet from the gun which Fred Rockey was carrying at the time of the accident. It was because they desired to have the matter thoroughly investigated and both sides fully presented that the continued hearing was waived and the matter referred to court.

BEAUTIFYING STATE COLLEGE

Citizens Plan Campaign to Improve Condition of Streets.

Residents of State College have inaugurated a general campaign for further beautifying the town. A meeting was held last night to consider plans for improving the appearance of streets and lawns. Each tenant and property owner is to be asked to co-operate in the work in hand, the idea being to make State College one of the prettiest and cleanest towns in the country.

Business in general at State College is remarkably active. This is especially true in the building line. Thus far this Spring, foundations have been completed for ten new houses. In addition, three new houses have been completed and are ready for occupancy.

KIRK "HANDED ONE" BY COLLEAGUES IN COUNCIL

Fellow Democrats Employ "Silence Drill," to Check Debate.

WELL OILED MACHINE

Having subjected him to the humiliation of being dropped from virtually all committees, Bellefonte Council on Monday night "handed" Dr. Kirk another one. This time he was given the "silence drill." No one would admit that a prearranged plan was followed, but it was nevertheless a fact that no matter what Dr. Kirk had to say, or regardless of what protest or criticism he had to offer, his colleagues sat and listened in languid silence and then proceeded to a vote or a consideration of the next order of business just as if there had been no interruption, or in other words, no Dr. Kirk.

In this manner President J. C. Harper and the other Democratic councilmen headed off any debate which might have given Dr. Kirk an opening to say what he thought about the steam roller methods which were used to down him when Council reorganized two weeks ago and he was unceremoniously dropped from the Water Committee and other choice berths that old-time members come to regard as personal property. Just what Dr. Kirk would have said had he gotten an opening may never be known until the Harper—Musser regime in Council slips a cog and the West Ward "firebrand" succeeds in getting one foot inside the door. Having a pretty good idea what Dr. Kirk really thinks about his treatment President Harper was determined not to allow those thoughts to be expressed in polite or impolite language, guage, and especially in public. That Dr. Kirk is a Democrat seems to make no difference to the Democratic majority which elected Mr. Harper president and then laughed up its figurative sleeve as the new committees were announced.

For instance, at Monday night's meeting, Dr. Kirk endeavored several times to engage in a discussion of matters before Council. No one offered any interruption, not so much as a suggestion. But the instant Dr. Kirk had concluded his remarks, this would be the procedure:

President Harper's gavel would come down with a smash. Council would suddenly assume an air of deep interest in the subject. Without further ado, President Harper would announce:

"You have heard the motion, we will now proceed to a vote."

And so it went, in one, two, three order, President Harper at one end of the table and Councilman Fred Musser at the other, the two working together as smoothly as a well oiled machine.

Just how long Dr. Kirk will permit the Harper—Musser regime to humiliate him was the subject of numerous curb-stone wagers after Council adjourned. The breach has been widening for some time past and several wagers were laid that the explosion is due in the near future.

Aside from disciplining Dr. Kirk, Council formally accepted the contracts with the State Highway Department for the construction of an extension of the State road from the northern boundary line of the borough, on Linn Street, to the eastern boundary line of the borough on Bishop Street. The proposed extension will be of macadam, with an asphaltum dressing, on Linn Street and Allegheny Street, to Parrish's drug store, and of brick from that point to the end, on Bishop Street. The brick paving is to be 16 feet wide. At Monday night's meeting a petition was submitted by Allegheny Street property owners asking that the Street be paved from curb to curb and volunteering to share the expense. This seemed to meet with approval but no action was taken, Council deciding that the matter would have to be embodied in an ordinance.

Dr. Kirk opposed singing the contracts, making the blunt statement that the proposed State road extension would cost the borough $6,000, and that this would necessitate an increase in street tax. Others declared that the cost would not exceed $4,000, but this merely provoked a laugh from Dr. Kirk.

Before adjourning, Council directed the Water Committee to investigate reported water leaks, granted the Pennsylvania Railroad permission to place a watchman's box at the Phoenix Mill crossing, and ordered a batch of new notes drawn to lift notes about due and also to pay current expenses.

FIRE BUGS CONFESS

Four Boys Admit Causing Huntingdon's Disastrous Blaze.

Four boys have confessed to causing the big fire at Huntingdon, on Friday, last, that entailed a loss of $125,000. The boys are Irvin Reed, Carlton Gates, Robert Earle, Jr., and Harry McCrum. They are in the Huntingdon jail. The boys had been drinking all night and deliberately started one fire after another. All four are residents of Huntingdon.

The buildings destroyed were the First Methodist church, the O'Mara planing mill, the Africa block, the Huntingdon Planing and Saw Mill and a number of residences. The Presbyterian church was damaged. The spire was destroyed but the building was saved.

IN SURGEON'S POWER

The Heart Has Been Subject of Many Successful Operations.

According to Dr. Andrew Wilson, F. R. S. E., the modern surgeon has learned that practically no organ or tissue of the human body is to be regarded as lying outside possible interfence on the part of a skillful operator. Even an organ like the heart, the very citadel of life, has now come to be included within the surgeon's province. Not so very long ago a curious case occurred in London where a man stabbed in the heart was taken to a hospital. The wound in the heart was duly sutured or stitched, and the patient made a complete recovery. In this particular case, which was the result of an assault with intent to kill, surgery undoubtedly prevented the assailant from being indicted on that charge.

To understand wounds of this nature, says the Philadelphia Record, it must be borne in mind that the heart is a hollow muscle. If a vital part, and one closely connected with the internal mechanism of the organ has been injured, recovery is, of course, impossible. On the other hand, where the substance of the heart itself has alone been affected, surgery is enabled to place the patient in a condition favoring recovery, though the work of the organ apparently does not cease. During the month of March, 1906, a negro, 30 years of age, was treated for a wound of the heart in a New York hospital. The wound was on the left side of the heart, and at the base or upper part of the left ventricle. After the operation the patient made a full recovery, though he had walked a long distance to the hospital from the place where he was injured. In another case, reported at a German surgical congress, a wound of the heart was successfully treated, the injury being on the right upper cavity of the organ. It is related that this wound in the heart was closed by three silk sextures, and though the patient suffered from a complication of troubles thereafter, his recovery from the effects of the operation was perfect.

In a recent case, recorded in the medical journals of Paris, a French soldier was wounded in the left side by a ball from a pistol. The bullet was implanted in the left upper chamber or auricle of the heart. At first no very serious symptoms were experienced, but ultimately the patient suffered from difficulty of breathing and pain in the side. The heart was photographed by means of the X-rays, when the bullet was seen on the left side of the heart at its base. It was fixed in the heart-substance, and moved with the impulse of the heart. An operation was undertaken, the bullet removed and the soldier within a short time was able to report for duty.

All experienced surgeons know that in a certain number of cases where the heart has been injured, patients may recover without any operation at all. This is, of course, due to the fact that the wound in the heart closes of itself, a result which depends very materially upon the part of the organ affected. As just noted in the case of the French soldier, a bullet wound in the heart is not necessarily fatal. The records kept by military surgeons show that such cases are by no means uncommon; there are even well-attested instances of complete recovery from such wounds in the medical annals of the American civil war; though the state of surgery in the early sixties seems to prove that these cures must have been brought by nature. Indeed, there are veterans of that great contest alive today who carry about imbedded in their hearts bullets which have, so to speak, made themselves quite at home. These bullets have, through the wonderful power of accommodation of that life-giving organ, remained in the heart since the day the wound was received. And they apparently give little or no trouble to the men who carry these strange souvenirs of historical battlefields hidden in their breasts. Unknown to the public they are medals of honor beside which the cross of Legion of Honor appears a mere bauble.

Ethel Barrymore and Little Sammy.

"The newest 'star baby' is the little son of Ethel Barrymore Mrs. Russell-Colt," says the Woman's Home Companion for March. "He is a real stage baby if ever there was one, for not only his mother, but his uncles, Lionel and Jack Barrymore, and his great-uncle, John Drew, are among our most popular players today. Then, too, both of his grandparents, Maurice Barrymore and George Drew Barrymore, were distinguished actors, while his great-grandmother, Mrs. Drew, was a brilliant comedienne of three decades back.

"But just at presnt young Master Colt smiles and cries ands kicks just about as other healthy babies do, without knowing that his doting mother is one of the most clever and beautiful of all the actresses on the American stage. Just how she is going to satisfy the demands of the thousands of admirers all over the country to see her in her new play and at the same time fill the exacting role of mother to a darling baby at the cuddling age is the big problem for 'Our Ethel' to solve."

SIRES AND SONS.

Nelson W. Aldrich is sixty-eight years old. He has been senator from Rhode Island twenty-nine years.

Frederick O. MacMillan, head of the famous publishing house of MacMillan & Co., has been knighted by King Edward VII.

Justice John Marshall Harlan, who is six feet three inches in height, is the tallest member of the United States supreme court.

August Fardelitis of Santa Monica, Cal., is probably the youngest sea captain in the United States. He is twenty-one years old.

Frank Lane, Interstate commerce commissioner, ran a newspaper in Tacoma before he went to San Francisco and took up the law.

Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana was born in Ohio and educated in Illinois. He was Montana's first representative in congress.

Major Benjamin M. Harrod of New Orleans, who was a Confederate soldier, has accepted an invitation to deliver the next Memorial day address at Harvard university.

Thirty years ago Captain Frederick Stanley of Scituate joined the Fourth Cliff life saving station crew as a surfman and in October of the same year was appointed keeper of the station, which position he holds today.

Dr. Henry van Dyke, Murray professor of English literature at Princeton university, has been elected an honorary fellow of the Royal Society of Literature of Great Britain. The only other American who has been thus honored is Joseph H. Choate.

Things Theatrical.

William Faversham has secured the American rights to "The House of Temperly," by Conan Doyle. The play is an English one of the time of Napoleon.

Miss Elizabeth Marbury, the dramatic agent, has bought from Daniel Frohman the foreign rights of Theodore Burt Sayre's play, "The Commanding Officer."

Frank McIntyre, who is starring in James Forbes' comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," made his first appearance with Frank Keenan in "Hon. John Grigsby."

Laurence Irving, the son of the late Henry Irving, who is now starring with his wife, Mabel Hackney, in this country, will next season become a producing manager in this country.

A new comedy by James Forbes, author of "The Traveling Salesman," will be produced by Henry B. Harris in Baltimore on Easter Monday. The play is to be called "The Commuters."

Sporting Notes.

Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati are the National Baseball league cities that have never won a pennant.

Several of the big eastern cities will see well known sprint runners in action next summer. A series of races is planned.

Unless injuries keep him out of the game Robert Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals says he will catch every game next season.

The Brighton Beach (New York) harness races drew 620 entries to seventeen stakes, an average of thirty-six. A total of sixty-nine turfmen made the entries.

Carl Fisher of the Indianapolis motor speedway received a communication from the promoters of the Brooklands tracks in England proposing and urging an international racing contest.

Law Points.

The fact that one on trial for assaulting another with a dangerous weapon while trying to gain possession of real estate was the owner of the property is held in Hickey versus United States (C. C. A.), 168 Fed., 536; 22 L. R. A. (N. S.), 728, to be immaterial, since he had no right to resort to force to regain his rights.

College and School.

First public schools in America were established in New England about 1642.

The sudden demand for popular education in China is shown by the fact that the school attendance in one province alone has increased 8,000 per cent in five years.

Mrs. Susan Lincoln Mills, surviving founder of Mills college, in California, and for twenty-five years its president, resigned recently, and Mrs. Luella Clay Carson was formally inaugurated president in her place.

Train and Track.

Chicago now has a law which makes traction companies return the fares to passengers who are on a car which is detained ten minutes or more.

In Mexico it is cheaper for railroad companies to coal their locomotives with barrows carried by two natives than to install modern coaling stations.

While 2,000 horsepower locomotives are common in the United States and many exceed that size, a 1,200 horsepower engine is considered large in continental Europe.

Going Into a Safer Business.

It was Cassidy's first morning as newspaper carrier. From side to side of the avenue he hurried, dropping the moist sheets in vestibules and running them in the space between the door and sill. Finally he came to a house that was separated from the sidewalk by an urn studded yard. Cassidy opened the iron gate and walked up the stone path. He knelt in the vestibule and started running the paper under the door. An upper window was raised, and a woman's voice called:

"Is that you, Harry? You are awful late. I hear the milk carts rattling."

"You needn't think I'm coming down at such an hour! The idea of you, a married man, coming home at such a time! Lost your key, as usual? Well, catch this one."

A heavy piece of brass shot two stories. There was a heavy fall, and the vestibule resembled a press room.

Some one found Cassidy smoking his pipe in the "accident ward."

"Going back to the carrier route?" they asked.

"Niver once more," responded Cassidy. "Ol'm goin' back to wur-ruk in th' quarry. Thor's no fallin' kaes thor, only dynomited rocks."—Chicago News.

As Expanded.

A diminutive specimen of juvenile femininity yclept Miss Muffet had placed herself in a sitting posture upon an article of household furniture ordinarily termed an ottoman or hassock, ministering to the gratification of her gustatory organs by ingurgitating the coagulated portion of bovine lacteal fluid mingled with the watery serum of the same which remains after the coagulated portion has been segregated and withdrawn.

Happening to glance downward, she observed that a specimen of the genus araneida, class arachnida, remarkable for its ability to produce filaments of extraordinary tenuity from its own interior, had taken a position upon the ottoman or hassock in immediate proximity to her.

Which totally unexpected incident aroused her apprehension to such an extent that she immediately, not to say precipitately, arose from her sitting posture and departed from the locality, leaving the intruder in undisputed possession of the apartment.—Chicago Tribune.

An Easy Job.

In antebellum days Colonel Moore of Kentucky owned a large number of slaves. One day one of the field hands, named Jupe, was guilty of some negligence and was sent to the woods at once to cut down and split up a black gum tree, practically an impossible task. Jupe cut down the tree and labored hard to split the tough wood, but in vain. In the meantime a thunderstorm came up, and Jupe sought refuge under a brush heap. Directly the lightning struck a large poplar near by, splitting it into kindling wood. After the storm had passed Jupe crawled out from his place of security and after taking a careful look at the remains of the poplar tree, which were scattered all over the woods, said: "Mr. Lightnin', I wish you had just tried yo' han' on dis black gum. Any blame fool can split a poplar!"—Cleveland Leader.

How Welshwomen Carry Their Babies.

The quaint old Welsh way in which Swansea women carry their babies attracts every one's notice when visiting that town for the first time. A big shawl over the right shoulder is drawn down to the left hip, where the two ends of the shawl are met and held together, forming a sort of pouch or pocket, in which the baby snuggles cozily and safely. Its weight is so supported by the hip and distributed by the shawl over the whole upper part of the body that there is no strain at all nor any tiring of the arms. This probably accounts for the upright carriage of the Welsh mother. Moreover, the method is comfortable for the child and so safe that in Swansea small boys swathed in their mothers' shawls are seen carrying the family's latest baby.—London Chronicle.

Dear Swift's Complaint.

It is no new thing this complaint which one hears of the high cost of living. Writing to Sella from London in the year 1710, Dean Swift remarks: "I lodge in Bury street, St. James, where I removed a week ago. I have the first floor, the dining room and bedchamber at 8 shillings a week, plaguy deep, but I spend nothing for eating, never go to a tavern and very seldom in a coach, yet, after all, it will be expensive."

This is, of course, due to the fact that the wound in the heart closes of itself, a result which depends very materially upon the part of the organ affected. As just noted in the case of the French soldier, a bullet wound in the heart is not necessarily fatal. The records kept by military surgeons show that such cases are by no means uncommon; there are even well-attested instances of complete recovery from such wounds in the medical annals of the American civil war; though the state of surgery in the early sixties seems to prove that these cures must have been brought by nature. Indeed, there are veterans of that great contest alive today who carry about imbedded in their hearts bullets which have, so to speak, made themselves quite at home. These bullets have, through the wonderful power of accommodation of that life-giving organ, remained in the heart since the day the wound was received. And they apparently give little or no trouble to the men who carry these strange souvenirs of historical battlefields hidden in their breasts. Unknown to the public they are medals of honor beside which the cross of Legion of Honor appears a mere bauble.

Ethel Barrymore and Little Sammy.

"The newest 'star baby' is the little son of Ethel Barrymore Mrs. Russell-Colt," says the Woman's Home Companion for March. "He is a real stage baby if ever there was one, for not only his mother, but his uncles, Lionel and Jack Barrymore, and his great-uncle, John Drew, are among our most popular players today. Then, too, both of his grandparents, Maurice Barrymore and George Drew Barrymore, were distinguished actors, while his great-grandmother, Mrs. Drew, was a brilliant comedienne of three decades back.

"But just at presnt young Master Colt smiles and cries ands kicks just about as other healthy babies do, without knowing that his doting mother is one of the most clever and beautiful of all the actresses on the American stage. Just how she is going to satisfy the demands of the thousands of admirers all over the country to see her in her new play and at the same time fill the exacting role of mother to a darling baby at the cuddling age is the big problem for 'Our Ethel' to solve."

SIRES AND SONS.

Nelson W. Aldrich is sixty-eight years old. He has been senator from Rhode Island twenty-nine years.

Frederick O. MacMillan, head of the famous publishing house of MacMillan & Co., has been knighted by King Edward VII.

Justice John Marshall Harlan, who is six feet three inches in height, is the tallest member of the United States supreme court.

August Fardelitis of Santa Monica, Cal., is probably the youngest sea captain in the United States. He is twenty-one years old.

Frank Lane, interstate commerce commissioner, ran a newspaper in Tacoma before he went to San Francisco and took up the law.

Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana was born in Ohio and educated in Illinois. He was Montana's first representative in congress.

Major Benjamin M. Harrod of New Orleans, who was a Confederate soldier, has accepted an invitation to deliver the next Memorial day address at Harvard university.

Thirty years ago Captain Frederick Stanley of Scituate joined the Fourth Cliff life saving station crew as a surfman and in October of the same year was appointed keeper of the station, which position he holds today.

Dr. Henry van Dyke, Murray professor of English literature at Princeton university, has been elected an honorary fellow of the Royal Society of Literature of Great Britain. The only other American who has been thus honored is Joseph H. Choate.

Things Theatrical.

William Faversham has secured the American rights to "The House of Temperly," by Conan Doyle. The play is an English one of the time of Napoleon.

Miss Elizabeth Marbury, the dramatic agent, has bought from Daniel Frohman the foreign rights of Theodore Burt Sayre's play, "The Commanding Officer."

Frank McIntyre, who is starring in James Forbes' comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," made his first appearance with Frank Keenan in "Hon. John Grigsby."

Laurence Irving, the son of the late Henry Irving, who is now starring with his wife, Mabel Hackney, in this country, will next season become a producing manager in this country.

A new comedy by James Forbes, author of "The Traveling Salesman," will be produced by Henry B. Harris in Baltimore on Easter Monday. The play is to be called "The Commuters."

Sporting Notes.

Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati are the National Baseball league cities that have never won a pennant.

Several of the big eastern cities will see well known sprint runners in action next summer. A series of races is planned.

Unless injuries keep him out of the game Robert Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals says he will catch every game next season.

The Brighton Beach (New York) harness races drew 620 entries to seventeen stakes, an average of thirty-six. A total of sixty-nine turfmen made the entries.

Law Points.

The fact that one on trial for assaulting another with a dangerous weapon while trying to gain possession of real estate was the owner of the property is held in Hickey versus United States (C. C. A.), 168 Fed., 536; 22 L. R. A. (N. S.), 728, to be immaterial, since he had no right to resort to force to regain his rights.

College and School.

First public schools in America were established in New England about 1642.

The sudden demand for popular education in China is shown by the fact that the school attendance in one province alone has increased 8,000 per cent in five years.

Mrs. Susan Lincoln Mills, surviving founder of Mills college, in California, and for twenty-five years its president, resigned recently, and Mrs. Luella Clay Carson was formally inaugurated president in her place.

Train and Track.

Chicago now has a law which makes traction companies return the fares to passengers who are on a car which is detained ten minutes or more.

In Mexico it is cheaper for railroad companies to coal their locomotives with barrows carried by two natives than to install modern coaling stations.

While 2,000 horsepower locomotives are common in the United States and many exceed that size, a 1,200 horsepower engine is considered large in continental Europe.

Going Into a Safer Business.

It was Cassidy's first morning as newspaper carrier. From side to side of the avenue he hurried, dropping the moist sheets in vestibules and running them in the space between the door and sill. Finally he came to a house that was separated from the sidewalk by an urn studded yard. Cassidy opened the iron gate and walked up the stone path. He knelt in the vestibule and started running the paper under the door. An upper window was raised, and a woman's voice called:

"You needn't think I'm coming down at such an hour! The idea of you, a married man, coming home at such a time! Lost your key, as usual? Well, catch this one."

A heavy piece of brass shot two stories. There was a heavy fall, and the vestibule resembled a press room.

"Going back to the carrier route?" they asked.

"Niver once more," responded Cassidy. "Ol'm goin' back to wur-ruk in th' quarry. Thot's no fallin' kaes thot, only dynomited rocks."—Chicago News.

As Expanded.

A diminutive specimen of juvenile femininity yclept Miss Muffet had placed herself in a sitting posture upon an article of household furniture ordinarily termed an ottoman or hassock, ministering to the gratification of her gustatory organs by ingurgitating the coagulated portion of bovine lacteal fluid mingled with the watery serum of the same which remains after the coagulated portion has been segregated and withdrawn.

Happening to glance downward, she observed that a specimen of the genus araneida, class arachnida, remarkable for its ability to produce filaments of extraordinary tenuity from its own interior, had taken a position upon the ottoman or hassock in immediate proximity to her.

Which totally unexpected incident aroused her apprehension to such an extent that she immediately, not to say precipitately, arose from her sitting posture and departed from the locality, leaving the intruder in undisputed possession of the apartment.—Chicago Tribune.

An Easy Job.

In antebellum days Colonel Moore of Kentucky owned a large number of slaves. One day one of the field hands, named Jupe, was guilty of some negligence and was sent to the woods at once to cut down and split up a black gum tree, practically an impossible task. Jupe cut down the tree and labored hard to split the tough wood, but in vain. In the meantime a thunderstorm came up, and Jupe sought refuge under a brush heap. Directly the lightning struck a large poplar near by, splitting it into kindling wood. After the storm had passed Jupe crawled out from his place of security and after taking a careful look at the remains of the poplar tree, which were scattered all over the woods, said: "Mr. Lightnin', I wish you had just tried yo' han' on dis black gum. Any blame fool can split a poplar!"—Cleveland Leader.

How Welshwomen Carry Their Babies.

The quaint old Welsh way in which Swansea women carry their babies attracts every one's notice when visiting that town for the first time. A big shawl over the right shoulder is drawn down to the left hip, where the two ends of the shawl are met and held together, forming a sort of pouch or pocket, in which the baby snuggles cozily and safely. Its weight is so supported by the hip and distributed by the shawl over the whole upper part of the body that there is no strain at all nor any tiring of the arms. This probably accounts for the upright carriage of the Welsh mother. Moreover, the method is comfortable for the child and so safe that in Swansea small boys swathed in their mothers' shawls are seen carrying the family's latest baby.—London Chronicle.

Dear Swift's Complaint.

It is no new thing this complaint which one hears of the high cost of living. Writing to Stella from London in the year 1710, Dean Swift remarks: "I lodge in Bury street, St. James, where I removed a week ago. I have the first floor, the dining room and bedchamber at 8 shillings a week, plaguy deep, but I spend nothing for eating, never go to a tavern and very seldom in a coach, yet, after all, it will be expensive."

W. M. EVERHART DEAD

Former Sheriff of Lock Haven was Native of Centre County.

Former Sheriff W. M. Everthart, of Lock Haven, died at his home at that place on Tuesday morning after an illness of but one week. He is survived by a widow, one son, James L. Everhart, of Renovo, and four daughters, John P. Anthony, of Lock Haven; Mrs. Hugh C. Hayes, of Mackeyville; Mrs. Edna Hughes, of Patton, and Miss Edith G. Everhart, at home.

Mr. Everhart was born at Jacksonville, this county, March 5, 1841, and spent his boyhood days on the farm. During the Civil war he enlisted in August, 1862, as a private in Company E. 137th Penna. Vols. being but 21 years old at the time. He was discharged as a sergeant in 1863 but immediately re-enlisted in Company L, 16th Penna. cavalry. He was commissioned second lieutenant and afterward first lieutenant, being mustered out of the service, September, 1865, as a brevet captain, U. S. Army. During his service he was shot in both arms. It was while home on a furlough that Mr. Everhart, in January, 1865, was married to Miss Elizabeth Worrick, a daughter of George Worrick, of near Mackeyville. On returning from the war he and his wife settled on a farm in Lamar township, Clinton county. In 1890 he was elected sheriff of Clinton county, and at the close of his term established his residence at Lock Haven, remaining there until the time of his death.

HUNTER.

In our issue of last week we announced the death of Miss Sophia Hunter, of State College. Miss Hunter was one of the oldest residents of that place. Her illness dated back to last Fall and resulted from complications incident to old age. While her death was not unexpected it occasioned no little sorrow among her many friends. The funeral was held from her late residence on Thursday, March 17, at 10 o'clock A. M., the services being in charge of her pastor, Rev. [illegible] assisted by Rev. Wilmar L. Mudge, of Lewistown. The remains were laid to rest by the side of her parents in the old cemetery at Pine Grove Mills, where a large number of her old friends gathered for a last look at her kindly features. Miss Hunter was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Hunter, pioneer settlers of Ferguson township, where she was born, December 20, 1827, at White Hall. She is survived by her brother, Captain J. A. Hunter, of Stormstown, who is in his ninetieth year but is hale and hearty and far more active than many who are younger. It was his lot as a dutiful son to aid his widowed mother to provide for her young family, as the elder Hunter died while quite young. He owned the farm now owned by N. C. Neidigh. From there the widow and her daughters removed to Pine Grove Mills and kept boarders, giving a home to many students at the Pine Grove Mills Academy, then under full sway. In the Spring of 1860 they removed to State College, to the old Main, and boarded the farm school farmers, teamsters and the entire student body, which numbered 35 boys. The following Fall Miss Sophia was appointed as the first postmaster of State College, the town then consisting of but five dwellings, and filled the position with satisfaction. Thus she lived to see State College grow from a small hamlet to its present flourishing condition, and in all the intervening years the student body always held her in the highest esteem and always were welcome at the Hunter home. She was a member of the Presbyterian church from her youth and always took an active part in advancing her Master's cause as a worker in His vineyard. In her last will and testament she bequeathed her beautiful home on College Avenue to her niece, Miss Anna Mary Hunter, of Stormstown, and the balance of her money and personal effects to nephews and nieces.

MISS JENNIE R. HASSINGER.

Miss Jennie R. Hassinger died on Friday, last, at her late home at Pleasant View after an extended illness. Winey, pastor of the United Brethren church, of which the deceased was a member. Interment was made at the Union cemetery.

MRS. NICHOLAS BAUER.

Mrs. Marion Bauer, widow of the late Nicholas Bauer, died on Friday evening, last, at the home of her son, Vincent J. Bauer, at this place. She had been ill but a few days, death being caused by pneumonia. Deceased was aged 82 years and was the daughter of Dennis McCafferty. She resided for the greater part of her life in Bellefonte and was a devout member of the Roman Catholic church. Surviving are the following children: Vincent, Josephine and John and Mrs. Agnes McCully. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was made at the Catholic cemetery.

MRS. R. C. CULLISON.

Mrs. Nannie Levenia Cullison, wife of R. C. Cullison, died on Friday night last, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Greene, at Altoona. She had been ill for some time. Deceased was born at Bellefonte, April 9, 1885. Surviving are her husband and three children: Harold Edgar, Frederick Herman and Inez Minerva, and also her parents and two brothers and one sister: James Andrew, Frank Loudon and Bessie May. Mrs. Cullison was an active member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of Altoona. Funeral services were held on Saturday.

MRS. JENNIE M. RICH.

Mrs. Jennie M. Rich, widow of the late John Rich, died on Sunday morning, last, at her home at Woolrich. Deceased was well known in this community. She is survived by one son, John Woods Rich, of Williamsport, and the following sisters: Josephine Shaw, Jersey Shore; Emma Quiggle, Pine; Rachael Furgeson, Woolrich; Cora Ferguson, Stella Miller and Lizzie Furgeson, of Avis, and three brothers: John Furgeson, of Jersey Shore, and Grant and Woods Furgeson, of Avis. Funeral services were held yesterday, interment being made at Woolrich.

GEORGE T. TAYLOR.

George T. Taylor died on Saturday, last, after an extended illness which culminated in pneumonia. Deceased was a son of Catherine and the late George Taylor and was aged 25 years. Surviving are his mother and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Martin Overly, of Altoona; Mrs. Charles Krebs, of Wilmington, Del., and William C., at home. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Mr. Hower and Rev. Mr. Winey. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap.

GREAT LUMBER CAMP

An interesting description of the John E. DuBois lumber camp, at Hicks Run, was given to us last week by Curtin Askey, who called to advance his subscription to "The Republican" another year. Mr. Askey resides at Pine Glenn but has been working some time at the DuBois camp. He was taken ill with typhoid fever several months ago and has since been building up his health preparatory to returning to the woods. He was in town to attend to some shopping and before returning home called at "The Republican" office.

"The DuBois camp is one of the best in the world," said Mr. Askey. "The men are treated well, they live well and the life in the open air is the best life any one can lead. There are several hundred of us, all men but four or five. We have a Church and Sunday School. We are so far from everybody that we are a little world of our own. The men are a fine lot of fellows. We get up usually at five-thirty in the morning and as soon as breakfast is over we are off to work. If our work is too far off we do not return to the camp before supper. By the time night comes every man is ready for bed and he sleeps like a rock. The meals are fine. We have a baker, a cook and several assistants. The food is the best to be had and always more than enough for everybody.

"We are glad to get the newspapers out there, even though they come a day or two late. It is Saturday by the time my copy of 'The Republican' gets to the camp, but I am always glad to see it. To me it is like a letter from home. It always has the home news in it. I could not get along out in the woods without a home newspaper. I like 'The Republican,' so send it for another year."

The engagement of "The Girl From Rector's" in this city which will be inaugurated at Garman's Opera House on the evening of March 29, is limited to one performance. The Ben Greet Players.

The people of Bellefonte and vicinity who saw these players at State College last year in "The Merchant of Venice" and "Macbeth" will welcome the announcement of a return visit by the company on Saturday, April 9. The Literary Club, under whose auspices the plays are given, is indeed fortunate in having secured the players for an engagement at this time, for their New York season was so successful that, though they planned to start their tour some time ago, they were compelled to postpone it again and again.

This year the company will present two of Shakespeare's most delightful comedies,—"Twelfth Night" in the afternoon, and "A Midsummer Night's Dream", in the evening. At both of these performances the auditorium stage will be decorated with fresh green foliage so as to give as much as possible an out-of-door effect.

Of special interest to lovers of music will be the announcement that the College Orchestra will play the exquisite Mendelssohn score in the evening, giving the complete program, the overture, and all the incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream". The company welcome this opportunity to cooperate with the orchestra, for it has played to crowded houses in the largest cities of America in conjunction with the Boston Symphony, the New York Symphony, the Russian Symphony, the Philadelphia, and the Pittsburgh Orchestra.

Arrangements have been made for special trains between Bellefonte and State College for both afternoon and evening performances. Tickets and all information regarding trains may be had at Parrish's Drug Store beginning Saturday, April 2. Paper covered editions of the plays are on sale at the Athletic Store, State College, Pa. for 17 cents each, postpaid.

SOUTH JERSEY FARMERS

Had Banner Year in 1909 in Growing and Shipping Produce.

Nineteen hundred and nine was the banner year for South Jersey farmers. They distributed more than $6,500,000 worth of produce over the New England States, the Middle West and Canada. This is an unprecedented record of shipments for one year and represents an increase of 34 per cent. over 1908. It took 18,891 freight cars to transport this produce to the various markets—about 178 miles of cars if made up in one train.

To enable the farmer to market his products quickly and secure the most advantageous prices, special schedules were established and trains known as "preference freights" were run, making time only equalled by passenger trains. The market has also been greatly widened as a result of the development campaign undertaken by the Pennsylvania Railroad in behalf of the commercial and agricultural interests of southern New Jersey. During the winter commission merchants and buyers all over the country were supplied with lists of reliable growers and shippers in that section.

Instead of being confined, as in former days, to a nearby market, generally in an overcrowded condition, meaning poor prices, the South Jersey farmer is now in as close touch with his markets as any business man, and is careful to see that his products are forwarded to destinations where he will receive the maximum price.

That the construction by the Pennsylvania Railroad of the bridge across the Delaware River has resulted in improved through train service, and has brought the interior markets many hours nearer the South Jersey produce shipper, is seen from the large area over which the shipments for the year were distributed.

Some 7,200 cars went to Camden and Philadelphia, while Jersey City and New York took 4,985. The remainder was distributed as follows: Newark, N. J., 1,186 cars; other New Jersey points, 399; Buffalo, N. Y., 331; Rochester, N. Y., 145; other New York points, 190; Pittsburgh, Pa., 792; other Pennsylvania points, 873; Boston, Mass., 829; other Massachusetts points, 419; New Hampshire, 83; Connecticut, 204; Rhode Island, 127; Maryland and Delaware points, 212; Ohio, 264; Chicago, Ill., 342; other Illinois points, 6; Wisconsin, 15; Minnesota, 52; Montana, 9; Michigan, 76; Nebraska, 4; North Dakota, 3; South Dakota, 1; Indiana, 10; Iowa, 6; Richmond, Va., 1; Louisville, Ky., 1; other Kentucky points, 3; Kansas, 1; Washington State, 1; Vermont, 14; Maine, 50; Indianapolis, Ind., 1; Detroit, Mich., 17; Toronto, Canada, 19; Montreal, Canada, 15; other Canadian points, 1; Norfolk, Va., Washington, D. C., 1; Colorado; 1; and Oklahoma, 2.

The produce which was sent from South Jersey last year was made up of the following commodities: Apples, 43 cars; asparagus, 61; berries, 660; cabbage, 4; cranberries, 158; eggs, 41; egg plants, 16; fish, 573; grapes, 6; ice, 25; meats, 13; melons, 188; milk, 23; mixed carloads, 3,163; oysters and clams, 3401; peaches pears, 75; peppers, 418; pumpkins, 12; poultry. 496; potatoes, 8,002; rhubarb and onions, 35; and tomatoes, 1,478.

Would Have Cost Him His Life.

Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: I have used Foley's Kidney Remedy and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease which certainly would have cost me my life." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Pneumonia follows a cold but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar which stops the cough, heals the lungs and expels the cold from the system. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives. No opiates. Sold by C M Parrish.

The Poultry Yard.

Perfect cleanliness from now on will cut short the louse crop of June.

If you stamp a date on your eggs, sell them before the date gets old.

Keep your meat scraps where they will not get stale and sour. Fresh feed is what makes healthy hens.

Feed little and often, and be careful about overfeeding. This is the great secret in feeding brooder chicks.

Banish the fighting stock from your pens. Give them a place all by themselves. That is the best kind of arbitration.

Cook some beans or peas, mix them with wheat bran and feed twice a week and see if you don't get a lot more eggs.

Have everything convenient. Steps saved in the care of poultry will mean that much less labor. Labor costs money.

When the brooder chicks seem very thirsty, wild for water, let them drink and feed very lightly while so feverish.

Many a setting of eggs has been spoiled by making the nest on the floor where the wind can come up through the cracks under the old mother hen.

April is a good month to hatch goose eggs. It is also an excellent time for getting out ducklings. Stock hatched now will be best for nex year's breeding.

Wet, cold feet do not do your hens any good. Chills them and keeps them back from doing their level best, and that is the only thing that will satisfy you and me.

Don't be in a hurry to remove the hen and her brood from the nest. The tender little chicks need warmth more than they do feed for the first twenty-four hours.

Does that old hen lay? Try this if she does not: Feed her all the chopped clover she will eat, with an ounce of lean meat every day. If there is any lay in her that will bring it out.

Orchard and Garden.

"Plant a tree, Jock. It'll be growing while ye're sleepin'." BOBBIE BURNS.

Promptly gather up and burn all brush and rubbish in the orchard.

When spraying do not work with bare hands. They'll be sore if you do. Put on a pair of rubber gloves.

Remember when you plow in the orchard that the roots are very near the surface. Three inches is plenty deep enough.

Some fruit growers say that it is not a good plan to plow an orchard when the trees are in blossom,—better do it before or after.

How long will our orchards bear the neglect seen on every hand? We need less of ex-tensive farming and more of in-tensive and sensible operations.

Now, don't wait till the last moment before ordering the berry plants. Give the folks who grow them a chance to fill the order in good shape without being hurried. Better for them and surely better for you.

When the leaves begin to grow, the canker-worm may commence to move up on the trunks of fruit and other trees. Bands of tar or printer's ink, if put on the tree trunks in time, will catch many of the pets.

As soon as the leaves start on currant or gooseberry bushes, cut out all sickly-looking or non-starting canes and promptly burn the cuttings. Borers are probably within, and in this way they can be kept in check.

Get ready to fight the codling-moth which causes wormy apples. Next month we'll tell you how. In the meantime, fruit growers should prepare themselves for the campaign by ordering a first-class spray pump and the necessary attachments.

From April FARM JOURNAL.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of Kidney or Bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine No medicine can do more. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Nursing Best Paid Occupation.

The Philadelphia School for Nurses, 2219 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., offers Free Scholarships in Trained Nursing to young women in every State in the Union. The Scholarships cover the full Two Years' Course, with room, board, uniforms, laundering, etc., included, and railroad fare paid to home town or district upon the completion of the Course.

A home study course and a short resident course are also provided, which quickly open the door to opportunity and enable progressive students to render a noble service to humanity and at the same time acquire for themselves a substantial income from the best paid occupation now open to women; besides qualifying every student to deal with emergencies in the home that may mean the saving of a loved one's life.

Far-seeing philanthropists are adding to the resources of this School, with the view of ultimately extending these benefits to earnest, energetic young women in all country districts and in all the smaller towns and cities.

The Institution is approved and endorsed by leading physicians and educators of the entire country. Some of the leading men of this State are its strong supporters and endorsers, as will be seen by the catalogue which will be sent to any one who writes to the School for it.

Gumption on the Farm.

Now 'tis spring, and weeds are shallow rooted;
Suffer them now and they'll o'ergrow the garden. SHAKESPEARE

Roll the meadows and green fields.

Beware of planting sprouted potato seed.

Plant the garden when the cherry blooms.

It is scabby business to plant scabby potatoes.

Few farmers harrow quite enough. Harrow, Harrow, Harrow.

He who by the plow would thrive must straighten up and look alive.

Dogs can thrive on bones better than a woman can on unkind words.

Keep manure near the surface; plow it deep and you lose some of it.

Seek only that which is honorable that thou in thy poverty shouldst die rich.

Don't forget to make two sowings of clover, and be sure to use one-half alsike.

Those who charge farmers with the responsibility for the high cost of living tell a fib.

Do not wish the teams too hard; let them have time to get their shoulders hardened to the work.

The farmer who allowed his implements to be sheltered by the sky during the winter will now find himself out.

When a man insists upon giving you advice, you can readily get rid of him by offering him a little in return.

If there is no place in the shed for the grindstone, get a box at the store that will fit over it, thus keeping it covered from the weather.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 21ST. DISTRICT

Statement is Issued by Lewis Emery, Jr.

HE IS A CANDIDATE

Well Known Bradford Oil Man Enters The Contest For Congress and Asks the Support of the Republican Party—Believer in Roosevelt Policies.

The following statement was given to the press by Hon. Lewis Emery of Bradford and is self-explanatory:

I take this occasion of announcing myself as a candidate for Congress, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of the 21st district at the primaries to be held in June, 1910.

It would hardly seem necessary for me to explain my position on matters pertaining to the interests of the people, as I have been connected with the politics of Pennsylvania for more than thirty years, and during several years of that time I have represented my constituency in the State legislature. And for all of these 30 years during which I have been before the public, my name has been synonymous with clean politics, reform and the square deal. In all that I have done, I have endeavored to uphold the principles of my party, although I have many times been obliged to fight those in the party who have been seeking private gain, rather than party and public good.

The role of reformer, thirty years ago, was far from being a pleasant, or even a safe one. More than ordinary courage was required in those days to persevere in the narrow road of reform and to surmount the obstacles placed in the way by enemies within and without the party.

Never a Doubtful Position.

The fight has been a long and bitter one, but my position in the field has never been a doubtful one. I have ever stood for principle and have met my opponents squarely, in the open. Many times I have gone down to defeat. A few times I have won against fearful odds; but never have I lost courage or hope of the final triumph of a just cause—the cause of the people as against corporate power and illegal combination and I have always been in accord with the policy pursued by Theodore Roosevelt.

So long have I fought the good fight and so intimately have I been connected with the great questions agitating the people of Pennsylvania, today, that I feel I am justified in asking you, the voters of the Twenty-first district, for your hearty support at the primaries in June.

My business interests are large and my time is valuable, but I am willing to give my time and means to your interests. However, I wish it to be plainly understood by all, that if I am accorded the nomination I seek, I shall be glad to pay all lawful expenses of the campaign which will follow. But, I shall not be willing to conduct a vote buying, boodle campaign.

Strictly on His Merits.

My record in business and politics during the past thirty years is an open book which all may read; and I desire to go before the voters in this campaign on my merits.

In conclusion, I wish to state plainly that I shall make no pre-election promises, either directly or indirectly, to any man that he shall be appointed to office if I meet with the success in the primaries and at the general election. I reserve to myself the privilege of going into office with an open field for future action.

Upon the foregoing statement I respectfully ask for your hearty support.

LEWIS EMERY, JR.,
Bradford, Pa., March 15, 1910.

An Efficient Mistress.

Mrs. A., who had a shiftless colored maid, was hurrying through her morning's work in order to go out with a friend in the afternoon. As she flew about from room to room she heard the colored woman chuckling to herself as if very much enjoying something. Impatiently she said:

"What in the world is it that amuses you so, Isabel?"

"Well, Mis' Bessie, when I heard you gallopin' aroun' up-stairs I jes' t'ought if you'd been de Lawd it wouldn't 'a' took you no six days to make de hebbens an' de yearth!"—S. A. Rice in Woman's Home Companion for March.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Bellefonte Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. John Fisher, 51 S. Water St., Bellefonte, Pa., says: I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as higly today as I did three years ago when I gave a public statement in their favor. A member of my family procured Doan's Kidney Pills from Green's Pharmacy Co. and received prompt and permanent relief through their use from an attack of kidney complaint. I have also taken Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and pains through my kidneys and they have always had the same beneficial effect. You are welcome to publish this statement."

One Kind of Manners.

"If I had my way there should be but one kind of manners, and that good," says Virginia Terhune Van de Water in the Woman's Home Companion for March. "I would have each child drilled to be as scrupulously polite to the members of his family as to the guest within his father's gates, as courteous to the employee in the kitchen or chamber as to his mother's callers. If from birth he knew no alternative of behavior, he would practise none.

"If we are honest, we must admit that with many educated and refined persons there is all unknown to themselves, a difference in the courtesy displayed to home people and that directed toward strangers. The man who does not consider it worth while to rise when his wife or mother comes into the room will spring to his feet when the guest of wife or mother enters. The lad who nods to his sister, whom he meets alone on the street, will take off his hat when that sister is accompanied by her pretty chum.

"As for knocking at the door of the room of any member of the family—who thinks of doings it? But let us recall at the same time that we do not rush into our guest's rooms without a preliminary knock and a gentle, oh, so gentle, 'May I come in?' Personally, I believe that this disregard of personal privacy in our families is one of the worst of our set of habitual bad manners."

Henrietta Crosman as a Mother.

"A mother right out of an old-fashioned story-book is Henrietta Crosman in private life Mrs. Maurice Campbell; a golden-haired, sweet-faced woman who is as good a housekeeper and a homemaker as she is an actress," says Woman's Home Companion for March. "When she is in New York, Mrs. Campbell hurries right home from the theater that she may be up early in the morning to be with that boy of hers. She spends as many hours as possible with him when the exigencies of her profession make it possible.

"An old nurse plays an important part in the Campbell household. She it is who has charge of the little boy when the mother is away. The boy, his right bringing-up and his education are the things nearest the actress' heart.

Danderine
GROWS HAIR
and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Epilepsy, Fits

Convulsions, or Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance are Nervous Diseases. Most cases can be cured by strengthening and building up the nervous system. To do this a nerve medicine is needed. Dr. Miles' Nervine will be found efficacious and satisfactory. It has cured many cases of these diseases and we believe it will cure you. We can give you names of many who have been cured through its use. Write for advice.

"My son John had epilepsy for years, and after having him treated by specialists for over 2 years he still continued to have spells. I had almost given up in despair, but knowing the virtue of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick headache, I concluded to try the Nervine. During June, 1906, I gave him a teaspoonful three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, and he has not had a spell since August 28, 1906, and has taken no medicine since Jan.-07. I am writing the case just as it is hoping it will induce others to try it."

Opening Baseball Game.

The baseball season in Bellefonte will be opened on Friday, April 1, with a game between the Bellefonte Academy and Pittsburg Tech. That the visiting team is first class and rated high is further demonstrated by the fact that on the day following its game here it will go to State College and meet the strong Varsity club at that place. We wish to impress on Bellefonte "fans" the importance of patronizing the games in the early part of the season. Heavy guarantees must be paid to visiting teams and the receipts in the early part of the season are usually so low as to be ridiculous. With the opening of the season this year will be a good time to turn out for the first games and thus insure good baseball during the entire Summer. The Academy boys are practicing daily and have an exceptionally strong team to be put up against the Pittsburg boys. Remember the date, April 1.
